TREASURER'S MESSAGE

From the dusty plains of Broken Hill to the shorelines of Tweed Heads; from the paddocks of Tumbarumba to the mining towns of the Hunter and the Illawarra, regional New South Wales showcases the diverse wonders and dynamic communities that define our great State.

For many regional areas, the last 12 months have presented major challenges, as the ongoing drought continues. Despite this, regional New South Wales has shown extraordinary resilience and great economic strength, adding around 95,000 new jobs since 2015 — more than three times our target.

This is a Budget for the bush with farmers at its heart and ensures our regions will continue to grow well, with great infrastructure and world class services.

A drought relief package of $1.8 billion will help our farming communities endure the present challenges and build resilience for the future. We are investing to improve long-term regional water security, harnessing the $4.2 billion Snowy Hydro Legacy Fund to explore the delivery of a new pipeline from Lostock Dam to Glennies Creek.

Our record $93 billion infrastructure program will deliver upgraded hospitals and healthcare facilities in our regions, supported by an unprecedented boost in frontline services. Of the record 5,000 extra nurses and midwives to be employed over the next four years, 45% will be in the regions.

Travel will be faster, safer and cheaper, with a new $250 Regional Seniors Transport Card, savings for inter-city commuters with our $50 weekly Opal cap, and a new $1.7 billion intercity fleet.

We're investing $1.2 billion to upgrade regional roads and making long distance road journeys faster and safer, while a $400 million investment will support new mobile towers to eliminate blackspots, new data centres and fast, reliable internet connections in the bush.

Our $100 million Regional Cultural Fund continues to enrich country communities and our payroll tax cuts will give regional businesses more freedom to employ more local workers.

We're building eight new TAFE Connected Learning Centres to create new opportunities for young and old alike.

And four new Service NSW buses will bring our well-renowned one-stop-shop services to 150,000 more people in regional and remote New South Wales.

Moving closer to our state's capital, this budget also brings unprecedented investment to secure a brighter future for our emerging metropolitan regions in Western Sydney.

The new Western Sydney Airport will be a thriving centre for 200,000 jobs, new industries and new communities. We're planning the road and rail connections now so they are ready when the first flights take off — including the North-South Metro rail link from St Marys to Badgerys Creek.

A new Western Sydney Construction Hub will be a centre for skills and learning, a TAFE "super campus" — focused on construction and trades to create the workforce that will build our future.

We're creating more green and open spaces, with the new Billabong Parklands in Campbelltown, three new sport and recreation facilities in Camden, upgrading facilities at our national parks so more people can enjoy them. Also we will deliver the state-of-the-art Powerhouse Museum Western Sydney deserves.

Major new road and rail projects will fill in the missing links in Western Sydney's transport network. For the first time WestConnex is fully funded, we're progressing the Parramatta Light Rail and there's funding to start building Sydney Metro West next year. Seventeen new Waratah trains will deliver more express services to commuters in our west and we're getting rid of bottlenecks and clearing road congestion.

The 2019-20 New South Wales Budget is a budget of delivery for every community in the Premier State, from the city to the bush. It's our plan to deliver on our promises, and keep making our state a better place to live, work, run a business and raise a family, no matter where you are in New South Wales.

SUPPORTING our Regions

The 2019-20 New South Wales Budget demonstrates the Government's continued commitment to supporting the growth of our strong regions and emerging metropolitan areas and its focus on delivering outcomes for New South Wales citizens now and into the future.

The Government is working to ensure that its approach to planning, infrastructure development and liveability supports a vibrant, sustainable and resilient State. Supporting key projects across the regions and Western Sydney will be a key focus for the Government in 2019-20.

For example, the development of Western Sydney — consisting of the Central River and Western Parkland cities — will provide a foundation for innovation and new jobs in the future.

Across regional New South Wales and emerging metropolitan areas, the Government's continued investment will:

- support a targeted approach to drought resilience and future preparedness
- improve road and transport connections across all regions
- provide the health, education, police, and emergency services infrastructure necessary for our growing and aging population
- protect and improve the environment and local character of our regional communities
- enable the new Western Sydney Airport to boost growth and create new employment in Western Sydney.

Some of the Government's key investments in the regions and Western Sydney for the 2019-20 New South Wales Budget are highlighted in this document.

FOSTERING ECONOMIC GROWTH AND PROSPERITY

To support thriving regions.

- More than $1.8 billion in drought assistance, comprising both direct funding support and additional funding for both state and local infrastructure, including:
 - $350 million added to the Farm Innovation Fund to support low interest loans and capital improvements to build drought resilience and preparedness, bringing the total available in the fund to $1 billion.

- $185 million to continue existing drought assistance programs, including:

- $70 million in transport rebates for fodder, stock and water
- $50 million for one-year relief from Local Land Services Annual Rates
- $30 million to waive fixed charges for water licence holders
- $15 million to provide emergency water carting to secure town water supplies, as part of the Government's drought assistance program
- $10 million in Farm Innovation Fund loan interest relief.

- $170 million reserved for a special purpose Drought Infrastructure Package to fast track critical water and infrastructure projects, including new groundwater supply at Dubbo, augmenting supply to Coonabarabran and construction of new supply at Nyngan.

- $8.3 million to improve access to and delivery of mental health services in rural and remote communities.

- $5.2 million in funding to support preschool children and their families facing hardship because of the drought.

- $314.7 million in Restart funding over four years for over 120 regional water infrastructure projects is underway.

- $527.1 million allocation to improve regional communities' access to dependable, clean and safe water supplies and sewerage services.

- Keepit Dam upgrade ($113.1 million estimated total cost).

- $1.5 million of State contribution in 2019-20 ($13 million over four years) to rehabilitate high priority free flowing bores and drains in the Great Artesian Basin to enhance reliability of water supply to reduce the impact of drought.

- $2.6 million in 2019-20 towards water reform in the Murray Darling Basin.

- Investment in essential infrastructure to strengthen communities, through the $1.7 billion Regional Growth Fund, to improve local facilities and grow local economies in regional New South Wales. Over $1 billion has already been committed to more than 1,350 projects over the past two years. In 2019-20, the fund will continue to focus on regional New South Wales, with more infrastructure projects already in the pipeline.
- New funding of $113 million in 2019-20 from the Snowy Hydro Legacy Fund to be spent on priority areas including:
 - $90 million ($400 million over four years) for the Regional Digital Connectivity Program, providing mobile black spot towers and data centres to improve internet connectivity, speeds and reliability in regional New South Wales
 - $20 million in 2019-20 to continue to investigate and plan for future Special Activation Precincts
 - $3 million in 2019-20 to progress sites identified in the International Air Freight Pre-Feasibility Study to improve connectivity in regional New South Wales.
- In addition, the Government will also spend $32 million over three years to investigate the augmentation of the Wyangala Dam, as part of a $650 million commitment, with environmental and economic studies to commence this year.

- $22.9 million in 2019-20 as part of a $50 million investment to upgrade food and fibre research stations across our regions, including Port Stephens, Cowra, Tamworth, Orange, Wagga and Trangie, ensuring our agricultural industries are best-placed to remain productive and competitive.

BOOSTING JOBS AND SKILLS

Leveraging the jobs boom while delivering infrastructure for the future and arming our people with the right skills to meet the needs of our growing economy.

- $61.7 million over four years to construct eight new TAFE Connected Learning Centres in rural and regional locations, including at Byron Bay, Nelson Bay, Bateman's Bay, Jindabyne, Nambucca Heads, Hay, Cobar and West Wyalong.
- $57.1 million (from 2020-21 to 2022-23) to establish a pilot program for two senior secondary vocational schools in Western Sydney and the North Coast.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

Delivering the infrastructure required to support our growing population.

- Continued investment in New South Wales hospitals, with new and enhanced builds planned across many regions including the John Hunter Hospital, Tumut Hospital, Griffith Hospital and Goulburn Hospital.

- Unprecedented spending on school infrastructure across the regions to build new schools, update school facilities, and provide accessible modern facilities.
- $65 million dedicated to building and upgrading police stations in regional communities, including Bathurst, Goulburn, Jindabyne area, Bega and Bourke.
- $36.6 million in 2019-20 ($112.2 million across four years) to increase the number and quality of sporting facilities, including improving the use of existing facilities and meeting the needs of female participants across the regions.
- $18 million ($9 million in 2019-20) to refurbish and upgrade the Queanbeyan Courthouse.

CONNECTING OUR REGIONS

Better connecting our regions and cities through a once-in-a-generation pipeline of investment.

- $1.5 billion over four years to continue the New South Wales and Federal Government funded Pacific Highway upgrade program, including completing construction between Woolgoolga and Ballina by late 2020 and planning and preconstruction activities for the bypass of Coffs Harbour.
- More than $1 billion over five years to improve local roads and bridges through Fixing Country Bridges ($500 million) and Fixing Local Roads ($500 million).

- $812 million in 2019-20 to continue delivery of the New Intercity Fleet to provide new intercity trains to operate between Sydney and the Central Coast, Newcastle, the Blue Mountains and the Illawarra.
- $2.8 billion ($1.3 billion capital investment) for the design, build and maintenance of the new Regional Rail Fleet to replace the aging New South Wales regional rail fleet of XPT, Endeavour and Xplorer trains and build a new maintenance facility in Dubbo. The new regional fleet will comprise 117 new carriages to form ten regional intercity trains, nine short regional trains and ten long regional trains.
- $268 million over four years as part of a $2.5 billion commitment to start the duplication of the full 31 kilometres Great Western Highway between Katoomba and Lithgow to deliver a faster, safer route over the mountains.
- $322 million over four years as part of an additional $960 million commitment to upgrade the Princes Highway between Nowra and Moruya to improve safety, journey times and freight efficiency.

DELIVERING HIGH QUALITY AND ACCESSIBLE SERVICES TO THE PEOPLE OF NEW SOUTH WALES

Investing in our communities and providing the services that our people need.

- $2.8 billion to recruit 8,300 frontline health staff, over four years, with 45 per cent located in regional New South Wales.
- Funding in 2019-20 has been allocated to better support our regions, with:
 - focus on recruiting more doctors, allied health workers and psychologists to work in regional New South Wales
 - enhancing and supporting regional cadetships for nurses, midwives and allied health workers.
- $583.6 million over four years for 1,500 new police to increase the State's crime fighting capability and to keep the community safe. This boost to police numbers will benefit regional New South Wales communities and reduce response times.

- $70 million over four years to provide 35 new free mobile dental clinics for primary school children in Western Sydney, the Mid North Coast and the Central Coast. The service will allow access to dental checks and basic dental care for up to 136,000 primary school children each year.
- Four mobile Service NSW buses servicing rural and regional areas, including Northern New South Wales and Western Regions. They will offer the Government's one-stop-shop program to areas that do not have service centres close-by.

EMPOWERING ABORIGINAL COMMUNITIES

Upgrading infrastructure and improving living standards in Aboriginal communities.

- $35.8 million in 2019-20 is allocated to deliver new housing and upgraded housing through the National Partnership Agreement on Remote Indigenous Housing and the Aboriginal Housing Office's capital works program.
- $5.5 million in 2019-20 ($55 million over four years) under the Roads to Home Program, focused on delivering local road infrastructure in partnership with local Aboriginal Land Councils in ten remote Aboriginal Communities across New South Wales to improve accessibility and increase economic opportunities.

PROTECTING OUR ENVIRONMENT

Highlighting New South Wales' natural beauty, building on local character, enhancing liveability and improving the quality of the local environment.

- $32.3 million in 2019-20 ($65 million over three years) to protect threatened plants, animals and ecological communities, through the State's Saving Our Species program and New South Wales Koala Strategy.
- $25.2 million in 2019-20 ($149.5 million over four years) to improve access to New South Wales national parks through upgrading and extending walking trails, improving visitor infrastructure and facilities and introducing online and digital tools for virtual tours.
- $12.5 million in 2019-20 ($30 million over four years) to co-fund new clean on-demand energy projects with the private sector through the Emerging Energy Program, including $10 million to pilot initiatives to recycle and re-use materials in solar panels and battery systems.

SUPPORTING Western Sydney

Framed by the State's protected Natural Area and Metropolitan Rural Area, Western Sydney is home to over a third of the New South Wales population and is one of the fastest growing areas of the State.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT CONNECTIVITY

An emerging 30-minute city, with public transport bringing residents and jobs closer together.

- $2.2 billion over four years towards More Trains More Services delivering world class digital systems, enhanced fleet procurement, station upgrades and other infrastructure upgrades.
- $1.7 billion over four years for New South Wales and Federal Government funded road upgrades to support the new Western Sydney Airport at Badgerys Creek including the Northern Road between Narellan and Penrith and the M12 Motorway.

CREATING JOBS AND SKILLS FOR THE FUTURE

Access to education and skills training to harness new investment and knowledge-intensive jobs.

- $79.6 million over four years to deliver a new Western Sydney 'Mega TAFE' specialising in construction trades. It will provide modern facilities that support the delivery of specialised training in construction trades including carpentry, electrical and plumbing.
- $4.3 million over four years to provide a co-working startup hub in Western Sydney. This will provide subsidised and affordable work spaces and programs for businesses and start-ups.

BUILDING A LIVEABLE AND SUSTAINABLE CITY

Integrating the unique and natural assets for an even more liveable and sustainable community.

- Significant New South Wales and Federal Government investment in the Western Sydney International (NancyBird Walton) Airport and surrounding Western Sydney Aerotropolis. This entails significant infrastructure investment as well as planning for future skills, jobs and educational opportunities, supporting industries to leverage the new airport.
- Strategic planning for the region will ensure green and open spaces are embedded in future planning to create high amenity for existing and future residents.
